Note from Mrs. Maki, Asst. Principal

Dear Happy Valley Families,

We know that learning doesn't stop once students leave school for the day. There are so many teachable opportunities in the world around them and even in your own home. If you notice your child taking an interest in something, encourage their curiosity and help them find ways to learn more about a topic. Here are some ways to explore science at home:

Kindly,
Mrs. Maki

Sparking Science
Interest

- ▶ Visit a planetarium, aquarium, or science museum, or tour one virtually online.
- ▶ Start a leaf, rock, seashell, insect, or other science-related collection with your child. Use a guide to identify your specimens.
- ▶ Perform a kitchen science experiment, such as mixing cornstarch and water with your hands to make "goo" or using a pan of water to test things that sink or float.
- ▶ Go outside to observe a meteor shower or identify a few simple constellations.
